

Seeking Reading Volunteers

Do you know that Creslane Elementary School has a team of adult volunteers to help students with reading in ALL K-3 classrooms every day school is in session? We've been around for more than 10 years and there are about 35-38 of us.

We're called the IRC (Intergenerational Reading Collaboration). We work under the direction of classroom teachers in the morning. Volunteers work 2-3 days/week or can work solely as substitutes.

It's rewarding work. We enjoy helping our children become proficient readers. We train our volunteers and support them during monthly Wednesday meetings.

The only qualifications are that you enjoy working with children, can work as part of a team and are reliable.

Our efforts, along with all the other interventions our elementary school employs, are working! Our children's reading scores are steadily improving!

If you're interested in finding out more about the program and how you can help, visit the Creslane Elementary IRC page: <https://creswell.k12.or.us/ces/irc-intergenerational-reading-collaboration/> OR email any one of the four IRC co-coordinators:

Doug Allison (douglaskallison@me.com)

Jerri Chisholm (jerrichisholm@aol.com)

Eric Cullander (eculland@gmail.com),

Connie Nichols (connienichols50@gmail.com)

OR just stop by the office at Creslane Elementary School, 996 W. A St., Creswell

We look forward to chatting with you about the program.
